DEMENTED MAN LIKE BAD PENNY

Returns to Rushville But Comes Now Bearing the Olive Branch of Peace.

ARTHUR DRAIS IS HERE AGAIN

Son of Refined Eastern Woman, Who Made History in Adjoining Cities, is “Our” Guest.

Arthur Drais, the strangely acting individual who made history at Shelbyville recently, and who was a visitor in Rushville for several weeks prior to his advent in Shelbyville, was in this city today. He would not state what his object was in returning here.

At Shelbyville it is said he chased a number of people, waving a butcher knife at them in a threatening manner. He also frightened school girls in Waldron and Shelbyville.

At the Harry Morrison home he rushed in and caught the lady of the house by the throat and threatened to choke her to death.

His mother is a cultured and refined old lady, and occupies a chair in a prominent eastern educational institution. Hearing of her son's demeanor she immediately came to his rescue and got him out of jail. The mother and son left Shelbyville together, ostensibly for their eastern home.

It is said that Drais became mentally unbalanced from overstudy. He is a court stenographer and it is said he was a brilliant young man when he had his wits. The first days he spent in Rushville were around the court house and he kept constantly on the trail of Judge Sparks seeking a position. While here Drais stayed at the Smith home near the fire engine house, where he created no end of excitement.

Rev. H. W. Hetrick will begin a revival meeting at his church in New Salem next Sunday. He will be assisted by an evangelist and two lady singers from Greenfield.

The ladies of the Main Street Christian church will serve a turkey dinner in the basement of the church on Thanksgiving.

CASE NOW IN THE FEDERAL COURT

Counterfeiting Unearthed in Rush County Now Occupies the Boards.

OFFICER PEA WAS SUMMONED

Testified Before Federal Grand Jury
—Turnkey Corners His Market
on “Cotton-Tails.”

Policeman William Pea was called to Indianapolis yesterday to appear before the Federal grand jury in connection with the counterfeiting case the officer unearthed in this county recently.

It will be remembered that Policeman Pea found some phony nickels made of rabbit metal and after a series of inductions, deductions, disguises, clever scheming and Sherlock Holming he found the place where they were made and the maker—Roy Smelser at Gings.

Smelser was brought to this city, where he told a straightforward story, saying he was making them to experiment with some fine sand found on a farm nearby. But it was learned that an unscrupulous party named James Dinkins was passing out the spurious coin. Dinkins was arrested at Anderson and placed in jail. The secret service department is making a thorough investigation of the whole affair and it is likely that the Federal grand jury will return an indictment.

Anent Officer Pea's visit in Indianapolis the Star today says:

“Capt. Thomas Halls of the United States Secret Service, is ahead four nicely dressed young rabbits, and Policeman William Pea of Rushville will not have rabbit for dinner today.

“Policeman Pea came to the city yesterday to appear before the Federal Grand Jury as a witness, and when he entered the Federal Building he carried the four rabbits with him. For convenience he left them in Capt. Halls' office. The rest of the afternoon Capt. Halls was away from the building and his office was locked. About 4 o'clock Pea was compelled to go back to Rushville, and upon the last of a half dozen trips to the secret service office he left word for the captain to keep the rabbits and eat them.”

WILL QUIT THE TIES TO HANDLE THE PIES

Judson Harmon to Shake C. H. & D.

Cinders From His Feet For Fat Place.

ELECTED GOVERNOR OF OHIO

Judson Harmon, Governor-elect of Ohio, and receiver of the C. H. & D. railroad, is preparing to relinquish the latter so that he can give his undivided attention to the former. Wrestling with railroad deficits at the end of certain months such as receivers sometimes have to do may be trying but no more so than the worry that is coming to Mr. Harmon in distributing political “pie” to hungry Ohio Democrats. From figures given, the road would seem to be prospering.

THE WEATHER.

Generally fair tonight and Saturday. Continued cool.

SHORT COURSE FOR THE FARMER

Has Proven Invaluable Especially in the Matter of Growing Corn.

MANY HAVE TAKEN THE WORK

Fruit Shows Are Conducted in Connection With the Course at Purdue.

The seventh annual Farmers' Short Course (formerly called corn school and stockmen's convention) will be held January 11-16, 1909, by the School of Agriculture of Purdue University of Lafayette, Ind.

This course of one week is especially designed for and adapted to the needs of corn growers, stockmen, dairymen, horticulturists and home makers. That the work is popular and has proven to be of practical value, is borne out by the fact that more than 3500 people have taken the course during the past three years.

The instruction consists of lectures and demonstrations which include a discussion of the various important phases of the subjects, together with practical scoring and judging. The schedule for the week is arranged so that the time is about equally divided between the lectures and the judging work.

On Wednesday of Short Course week, the State Corn Growers will hold their annual meeting. Men with national reputations will be secured for the day. Corn growers should plan to attend.

During the week the State corn and fruit shows will be held by the Corn Growers' Association and the Horticultural Society. More than $1000 will be offered in premiums which is sure to bring out a large number of entries. All corn and fruit men are eligible, no membership or entry fees being charged.

For program and other information apply to Purdue University School of Agriculture, Lafayette, Indiana.

HAD TO BE SHOT AS RESULT OF INJURY

Playfulness of Horses Ends by One of Them Having a Leg Broken.

OWNED BY EARL CHURCHILL

A delivery horse, belonging to Earl Churchill was kicked on the leg by another horse last night at the Carr livery barn and had to be shot.

Churchill's horse stood by another horse, with only a small partition between them and they first began playfully nipping at one another. When the play became more animated, both of them backed to the end of the stall and began kicking.

The Churchill horse, being the more unfortunate one, was kicked upon the leg so hard that the bone was broken. The horse was rather old, so it was thought best to shoot him and not attempt to cure him.

COLE'S SOLOS ARE MIGHTY APPEALS

Newspaper Speaks Well of Efforts of a Well Known Rushville Man.

CO-LABORER WITH EVANGELIST

Says the Knightstown Banner: “Prof. Homer Cole, who is a co-laborer with Evangelist Carter, is a man well adapted to this particular part of the work, possessing a well trained voice and the power of directing music in a masterful manner which enables him to add much to the success of the meetings. He uses only the best Gospel songs and hymns, including the famous “Glory Songs” that are being sung all around the world.

“His solos are mighty appeals as he tells the “Old Story” of the Gospel, singing the love of Christ and the message of hope into the hearts of his hearers. He has a large chorus of singers under his direction and with the help of these makes the music a very helpful feature of every meeting.”

GAME HAS FINALLY BEEN SCHEDULED

Rushville High School Foot Ball Team Will Clash With the Shelbyville Team.

SHERIDAN THANKSGIVING DAY

The Rushville high school foot ball team will play the Shelbyville team tomorrow afternoon at Shelbyville. Two games have already been played between these two teams and the local boys have been victors in both contests by the scores of 11 to 2 and 5 to 0.

An effort was made to schedule a game with a stronger team which has some claim upon the State championship, but failed, because all of them have their schedules arranged at the first of the season. The failure of Brownsburg to fill their part of the contract to play here next Saturday took away all chances which the local team may have had to lay any claim to the State interschoolastic championship.

There is still some hope for a game with the strong Sheridan high school team here Thanksgiving day. Although they have not much of a claim upon the coveted title, they have an exceptionally strong eleven and can be counted upon to put up a good game.

Rushville is very optimistic as to the outcome of the contest tomorrow.

NO UNION MEETING SUNDAY

There will be no union meeting of the Christian Endeavor and Epworth League next Sunday as was announced early in the week on account of a misunderstanding of arrangements.

NOT ENOUGH EVIDENCE

Court Checks the Hearing in Sensational Peonage Case.

New York, Nov. 13.—After several witnesses had testified in the trial of agents of the Florida East Coast railroad, charged with keeping employees of the company in peonage, Judge Hough in the United States court brought the proceedings to an abrupt end for the day by refusing to hear further testimony until the government had established the conspiracy charge against the defendants.

When he had listened to the examination of witnesses who testified to the conditions under which a large number of men were engaged for construction work on the Flagler railroad and the treatment given the men in the construction camps, Judge Hough sustained an objection of counsel of the defendant to further testify along these lines, saying: "It seems that the government is prepared to show just two facts—that is that the Florida East Coast Railroad company contracted with certain New York labor contractors for men to work on the construction of their road there, and the other is that the condition of those construction camps was excessively unpleasant. However all that may be deplored, still it has nothing to do with the conspiracy charge made against these defendants."

Counsel for the government declared that he had witnesses to prove the conspiracy charge, but that he wished first to establish the facts as to the labor contracting and as to the conditions in the camps. The court, however, ruled that witnesses who could testify as to the points of the indictment should first be produced.

If You Haven't Got What You Want, Ask For It!

Now that the election is over, we are getting down to business and brass tacks. The Daily Republican has a desire it hopes to have gratified and kindly asks the cooperation of all subscribers, as it will be for our mutual good.

Briefly, the plan is as follows: We wish to have two thousand or more subscribers to our daily publication. We now have 1725. It will be quite a distinction for a city as secure that number we must get 275 new subscribers, as we small as Rushville to have a newspaper with two thousand subscribers, but we are inspired with the confidence of securing that number when we note the fact that we have been steadily gaining even in the face of a campaign. Yesterday we got five new subscribers, today four new ones, and scarcely a week has passed during the last fifty-two but what we have made a gain of eight.

Now here is where you come in. It enables us to publish an expensive newspaper, in a thoroughly up-to-date and expensively equipped printing office, and you reap the benefits with us. Our big list has made it possible for us to give the people of Rush county a newspaper that provokes the admiration of newspaper men throughout all of Eastern Indiana.

We have not had a solicitor in the field since the daily was inaugurated. Our success has been little short of wonderful, and we take this opportunity of expressing our profound gratitude to our patrons who have made it so.

If you can conscientiously say a good word for the Daily Republican to your friends and neighbors, do so and see how soon we will reach the two thousand mark.

We now have the largest subscription list by a thousand ever enjoyed by any daily publication in Rush county. Our list is always open for inspection. Advertisers always bear this in mind when they want to reach the "people."

Get behind the two thousand figure and give a little push for an intense circulation.

Lesson VII.—Fourth Quarter, For Nov. 15, 1908.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Ps. xxiii—Memory Verses, the Whole Psalm—Golden Text, Ps. xxiii, 1.—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1903, by American Press Association.]

How beautiful the description of David in I Sam. xlii, 1, "David the son of Jesse, the man who was raised up on high, the anointed of the God of Jacob, and the sweet psalmist of Israel," and notice in verse 2 from whence he received his messages, "The spirit of the Lord spake by me, and His word was in my tongue." The tongue and the pen were David's, but the messages were the Lord's by His spirit. See also Ex. iv, 12; Jer. i, 7-9; Ezek. iii, 10, 11; John xli, 49, and note how the prophets and even our Lord Himself received their messages from God the Father. The spirit of Christ in the prophets had mainly a twofold theme, the suffering of Christ and the glory that should follow (I Pet. i, 11), and in no psalm are these more fully set forth than in Ps. xxiii, written as if by an eyewitness and giving some of the very words He uttered on the cross (verse 1), yet pointing on to His resurrection kingdom and glory, saying, "The kingdom is the Lord's, and He is the governor among the nations" (verse 28).

The psalm for today seems to refer to the millennial glory of Israel and yet was the personal experience of David and may be that of each individual believer. David knew well the life of a shepherd and what it meant to care kindly for the sheep, and even to put his life in danger for them, as when he delivered one of his lambs from a lion and a bear and slew them both (I Sam. xvii, 34-36). As he thought of his care of his flock he could look up to the living God, the Lord of hosts, and say, "Jehovah is my shepherd," and as he knew that his sheep were safe and well cared for under his watchful care, so he was sure that he was even better cared for by his shepherd, the stone of Israel (Gen. xlii, 24; Ps. lxxx, 1). Hear the Lord's own words in this connection in John x, 11: "I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep." Think of Him also as great shepherd living in us and working in us to will and to do of His good pleasure (Heb. xlii, 20, 21). Then see (I Pet. v, 1-4) where as the chief shepherd He will reward those who for Him feed His flock. All the blessedness comes from being able to say My Shepherd.

We may know all the facts about Him and believe all that He says He is and has done and will do, but if there is no personal appropriation there is no benefit. The soul must be able to say My Redeemer, My Lord, My Shepherd. Then we can rest in Rom. viii, 32, and know of a surety that we shall not want, for there is no want to them that fear Him and live uprightly before Him (Ps. xxxiv, 9, 10; lxxxiv, 11). Lying down is restful, and green pastures speak of satisfaction; satisfied and restful. He satisfieth the hungry soul. There is such a thing as abiding satisfied (Prov. xix, 23), and yet there is a satisfaction that will be only when we awake in His likeness (Ps. xvii, 15). In Him dwelleth all the fullness of the Godhead (Col. i, 19; ii, 9), and if we are not filled full in Him the difficulty is with us and not with Him. Not only rest and fullness, but quietness of soul, is ours also in Him (verse 2, margin). He is "The Lord our Righteousness" (Jer. xlii, 6), and the work of righteousness is peace, and the service of righteousness is quietness and assurance forever. When He giveth quietness, who then can make trouble? (Isa. xxxii, 17; Job xxxiv, 29.) Like sheep we are prone to wander, and straying sheep must be sought, for they do not return of their own accord; therefore David said: "I have gone astray like a lost sheep. Seek thy servant" (Ps. cxli, 176).

His sheep can never perish, but may lose the joy of salvation; hence the prayer, "Restore unto me the joy of Thy salvation" (John x, 28; Ps. li, 12). Being righteousness itself, He can lead only in paths of the same, and this He does, as He does all else, not for our sakes, but for His Name's sake (verse 3; I John ii, 12; Ezek. xxxvi, 22). Let us say: "Lord, I place my hand in Thine and will not murmur nor repine. Content whatever lot I see, since 'tis my God that leadeth me." Our whole life here is lived in the shadow of death, for it is always true as David said elsewhere, "There is but a step between me and death" (I Sam. xx, 3). But He is with us every day and all the way, and nothing can touch us unless He permit it, and if He allows death to touch us it will be a gain, a very far better "absent from the body, present with the Lord."

A table in the presence of his enemies was many a time David's experience while fleeing from Saul and Absalom. It will be Israel's in millennial days. It will be ours as far as we need it, and it is for God's glory. Our future as believers is all told in verse 6. God is love, and love is kind, and therefore He cannot permit anything that is not loving kindness as He sees it, however it may look to us. Here we may dwell in Him and He in us (John xiv, 23; xvii, 23; II Cor. vi, 16-18); and by and by it will be for every child of God "forever with the Lord," and with Him on His throne (I Thess. iv, 17; Rev. iii, 21). May we ever hear His voice as in Isa. xlii, 1, 2; xlviii, 17; John xiv, 27).

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 15, 1908.
By REV. S. H. DOYLE.
Topic.—Temperance meeting. A study of temperance organizations.—Jer. xxxv, 1-19.

The temperance question is one of the most absorbing ones of the present day. The fight is on, and the temperance cause up to date has won glorious success, over one-half of the United States now being under prohibition or local option. With such signal success the movement must be pushed all the harder by every one interested in ridding our country of its greatest curse—intemperance. The trouble with reforms usually is that the reformers gradually become tired of their work, and the old order of things soon prevails. It has already been predicted that the temperance agitation has about reached its height and will soon subside. But such prophecies should be doomed to failure. With success at hand, no individual worker, no organization, should abate by jot or tittle the most strenuous efforts to completely overthrow this gigantic evil. It has been said that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." It is just as true in this case as concerning liberty. Only eternal vigilance can put down the saloon and keep it down, and thus practically win a complete victory for temperance and sobriety in our land.

The curse of the saloon and its debauching influences have long been recognized, and there have been temperance societies and organizations for centuries past. A study of these organizations should inspire us to increase our efforts to put down the rum traffic. The Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Manual has the following excellent description of "the temperance organizations":

The Independent Order of Rechabites was established in 1835 in Salford, England, in imitation of the ancient children of Jonadab. It not only requires total abstinence, but it provides a fund for sickness and death.

The National Temperance society had its origin in a convention held in 1835 at Saratoga. It publishes temperance periodicals for young people and adults and a very large number of temperance books and tracts.

The Woman's Christian Temperance union has been called "the sober second thought" of the wonderful woman's crusade of December, 1873, and the first half of 1874. The organization was effected in a convention held at Cleveland in November of 1874. It now has branches for the young women and the children and has extended everywhere, exerting an enormous influence for good. It has departments for the spread of temperance education, social purity and many other noble causes.

The Independent Order of Good Templars, originating in 1851, found a national organization in May, 1855, in a convention at Cleveland. It admits women on an equality with men. Its pledge requires lifelong total abstinence.

The Prohibition party, after many state campaigns, participated first in a national presidential election in 1872. Its candidates have been Black, Smith, Dow, St. John, Fisk, Bidwell, Levering, Woolley and Swallow. It holds that intemperance is a national issue, not to be settled by local efforts.

The Sons of Temperance arose in 1842 from the famous Washingtonian movement. It is a total abstinence association with charitable and benefit features.

The Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America was founded on Washington's birthday, 1872, in Baltimore, and it is doing a fine and aggressive work.

The first Band of Hope was formed in Leeds, England, in 1847, and it soon became a popular name for temperance organization, especially among the young.

Our Pledge.

"Relying on the Lord Jesus Christ for salvation"—how grateful these words must be to our Master, Christ, as they are said week by week by hundreds of thousands of young lips! It seems as though there is murmur of such words always rising from the world like sweet incense which must do something to counterbalance the hoarse sounds of blasphemy and rejection. At times, of course, the murmur becomes a great shout when a convention of Christian Endeavorers gathers in tens of thousands. But probably there is not a single minute in any part of the twenty-four hours in which some voice or voices are not professing reliance on the Lord Jesus Christ for salvation. Personally I greatly rejoice in the distinction which is made between reliance on Christ for salvation and the trust for daily strength to live a goodly and righteous life. Salvation deals with our deliverance from the power of sin which would hinder our fellowship with God, while trust for daily strength looks toward the positive side of Christian living, in virtue of which we are able to do great exploits for God in the world.—Rev. F. B. Meyer, B. A., in Irish Endeavorer.

Price Never Changed.

The Rev. Simon Turpie was an eloquent speaker, but he seemed to have a list of sermons which, when he once began, he went right through to the end and then started at the first sermon again, and so on.

A young man in the congregation was about to leave for South Africa, but the Sunday before he departed he attended the church service.

In the course of his lecture the minister used an illustration in which were the words, "A man can easily purchase two sparrows for threepence."

The young man, after being absent for about three years, returned and again on the first opportunity attended divine service. Strange to say, he heard the same narrative by the same minister, the phrase striking him most being about the "two sparrows for threepence."

At the close of the service the minister, in his courtesy, came and shook hands with the youth and, welcoming him back to his home, asked him if he noticed any changes about the place.

The young man, evidently quite unconcerned, replied, "Aye, man, there's two or three changes, but there's yin thing I can see—the price o' sparrows is aye at the same auld figger."—Glasgow News.

New Use For Wheelbarrows.

Mrs. Zella Nuttall, the archaeologist, was making some excavations in Mexico. The Indians were removing the earth some distance from the point of excavation in the customary manner—that is, on a piece of coarse cloth tied between two poles, stretcher fashion, carried by two Indians. This method seemed rather laborious to Mrs. Nuttall, so she ordered several iron wheelbarrows from the city. When they arrived she turned them over to the foreman after explaining to him what they were for and how to use them. Next day when she visited the work the Indians had discarded their primitive parihuelas and were using the bright new wheelbarrows. As each barrow was filled with earth it was picked up by two Indians, one using the handles and the other the wheel, and carried to the place where the earth was to be deposited. All efforts to get the Indians to use the wheelbarrows properly failed, and they kept on carrying them until the work was finished.

Alphabet of the Playhouse.

"We keep learning things all the time," said an infrequent theater goer. "I stopped in front of a theater the other day to buy a ticket of a speculator, and I asked him if he had a good single near the front."

"Here's one in O," he said, "thirteenth row, third seat from the aisle."

"Now, you know, I don't carry the relative positions of the letters of the alphabet in my mind all the time. I have to work for a living and have other things to think of. But it struck me that O must be farther down the line than thirteen, and so I just counted up the letters on my finger tips, and I made O come fifteenth, and I said so to the ticket man, but that didn't worry him any."

"There's no A in this theater," he said, "and there's no I in any orchestra in town."

"And, having my finger tip figuring thus handily knocked out, I bought the ticket."—Washington Post.

How Nora Coaxed the Tips.

A group of women were standing in the corridor of a summer hotel when an aged scrubwoman started upstairs with a pail of water. Just then a bright faced, buxom Irish chambermaid came up.

"This looks purty heavy for the likes of ye," she said cheerily to the old woman. "Better let me help."

She took up the pail and whisked off upstairs with it.

"How thoughtful of Nora!" "Isn't she kind?" and similar expressions rose to the lips of the women. The proprietor of the hotel and another man also witnessed the incident.

"Clever girl, that Nora," said the hotel man to his companion. "She's always doing something like that when there are people looking on. She gets more tips than any two other girls in the house. She could afford to pay me for the privilege of working here. Every summer she makes enough to spend the winter in idleness at her old home in Ireland."—New York Tribune.

AN APPEAL TO HIGHEST COURT

Department of Justice Decides to Demand a Rehearing of the Case Made Famous by Judge Landis's Celebrated $29,000,000 Fine, and to That End Will Carry the Case to the Supreme Court of the United States, Asking a Review of the Action of the Circuit Court of Appeals Which Denied a Rehearing.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Following the recent action of the circuit court of appeals in Chicago, in refusing the United States government a rehearing of the Standard Oil case, made famous by its $29,000,000 fine, the department of justice officials have decided to carry the case to the supreme court of the United States.

The decision was reached after an extended conference between Attorney General Bonaparte and government attorneys who have been engaged in the case. It was found that a number of changes had been made in the opinion of the court of appeals as originally rendered, and that Judge Baker of that court had filed a separate concurring opinion which differed materially in its reasoning from that of Judge Grosscup.

Application will be made to the supreme court for a writ of certiorari to bring up and review the action of the circuit court of appeals when that tribunal reconvenes on Monday, Nov. 30.

TRICKERY IS CHARGED

Anti-Saloon League Declares Prohibits Its Greatest Enemy.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 13.—At a secret session of the central district convention of the American Anti-Saloon League here it was decided to adopt a policy of ignoring the Prohibition party. Trickery on the part of the prohibitionists during their recent campaign in Nebraska was openly charged. It was further declared that amalgamation with the Prohibition party had resulted in failure and defeat for the Anti-Saloon League in every state where it had been attempted.

State superintendents present asserted that the Prohibition party was their greatest foe in the fight to secure the election of legislators favorable to temperance legislation. The liquor interests took advantage of this fact, said the league officials, and used every means to further split the temperance ranks. National Superintendent P. A. Baker gave a stirring address in which he pointed out the disadvantages of any co-operation with the Prohibition party.

THREE HUNDRED PERISH

Germany Visited by Worst Mine Disaster in Her History.

Hamm, Westphalia, Germany, Nov. 13.—The greatest mine disaster in many years in Germany occurred at Kadbed mine, about three miles from this place. There was a heavy explosion in the mine and almost immediately the mine took fire. Of 380 miners working under ground at the time, only six escaped without injury. Thirty-five were taken out badly injured and thirty-seven were dead when brought to the mouth of the pit. The remaining 302 have been given up for lost. The first reports indicated that the accident was the result of explosion of coal dust, but the statements of the injured men render this improbable, and it is not clear just what caused it.

Farmers Call at White House.

Washington, Nov. 13.—President Roosevelt received at the White House about 500 farmers and their wives, of the national grange, Patrons of who are here attending the convention Husbandry. As the sturdy tillers of the soil were introduced he gave each his heartiest hand clasp and a cheery greeting. After the reception the president remarked that seldom had he seen such prosperous looking farmers.

Independent Operators Encouraged.

New York, Nov. 13.—That stoppage of the practice of rebate giving and taking as between the railroads and oil shippers has made the establishment and successful operation of independent refineries in the Western oil fields practicable, was the declaration of William Geisler, a Kansas oil producer, a witness in the hearing of the government's suit to dissolve the Standard Oil company.

Further Details of Seal War.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 13.—Further news has been received regarding the recent seal raiding tragedy at Copper Island. According to later advices the Russian gunners shot six men of the raiding schooner Boso Maru and another three, previously reported shot, were drowned when attempting to escape.

TODAY MAY DECIDE

War and Peace in the Balkans Hang in the Balance.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 13.—Although an air of outward calm is maintained at the Russian foreign office, the Balkan situation has now reached an acute stage, where everything depends on the nature of the note which is expected from Vienna today and the outcome of the mediation which Russia, France and Great Britain have undertaken at Belgrade, at Austria-Hungary's request, with a view to limiting the belligerent activity of Serbia. If mediation is not successful, war is recognized as a possibility in authoritative circles. The Austro-Serbian relations are too strained, it is believed, to permit present conditions to continue indefinitely. The Austrian note will definitely outline the attitude of that government regarding the discussion of the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina and the possible compensations to Serbia and Montenegro and the nature of the note will determine whether or not an international congress can be held.

QUEST FOR GOLD LEADS TO DEATH

Adventurers Found Mines Guarded by Hostile Indians.

New York, Nov. 13.—Baron B. F. Von Tuber, who has just arrived on the steamer Magdalena from West Indian ports, told a thrilling story of a gold-hunting expedition in Panama, north of the canal zone, which resulted in the death of three members of his party. The baron, with his brother and three mining engineers, started several months ago with two Indian guides north from Colon through what proved to be a country jealously held by exceedingly hostile Indians. A midnight encounter resulted in the fatal shooting of the Indian guides. Left thus in a strange, practically trailless country, they wandered helplessly. The three engineers were stricken with frightful fevers. The baron and his brother, however, made for the coast with the sick men, encountering constant hardships. John Bradley, one of the engineers, died in a boat they had hastily constructed, but the others, Frederick Smith and Peter Bartlett, were finally placed in a hospital, where they are slowly recovering.

Humphrey and Aaron Kohn, the leading attorneys of Louisville. The defendants demurred to the indictment, and hearing on this was set for Nov. 21. The cases were set for trial Dec. 17.

And still corn is king. The Department of Agriculture gives the Indiana corn for this year as 137,835,000 bushels.
Inasmuch as the vice-presidency pays $12,000 a year for four years, and Mr. Sherman's campaign cost him $2800, it would appear to have been a fairly good proposition.

Perhaps the reason the prohibitionists and the socialists were so sorely disappointed was because the plain people, in the excitement of the whirlwind finish, forgot all about them.

If the Democrats do not have a hot time over the selection of a United States senator the present conditions are deceiving. But keep an eye on Tom Taggart and John W. Kern.

Whether or not the county local option law enacted when the legislature was called in special session recently will be repealed remains to be seen. The majority of the voters of Indiana did not vote to sustain it and therefore the legislature may act as the people voted and repeal the law.

Few children's hymns have gained a greater popularity than "Little drops of water, little grains of sand," whose author, Mrs. J. A. This charming, simple little song with its familiar analogies has been sung by children everywhere and has gained for its author a lasting fame that many a more pretentious writer of poetry might well envy.

The tardiness and slowness with which the election returns have been handled in this year emphasizes the demand for some radical legislation providing for more expeditions reporting by election boards of the results in the counties of the State, and we trust that Hon. Not since 1872 has Indiana cast her electoral vote for the candidate of one party for president and selected a governor from the other party. In the year mentioned the election for State officers, held in October and Thomas A. Hendricks was elected governor and Milton B. Hopkins for superintendent of public instruction both Democrats, and the remainder of the Republican ticket was elected. When the election for president came on in November the State cast a majority of her votes for Grant electors.

Modern research lends color to the belief that the ancient Egyptians knew that rats transmitted the plague and other diseases, and the great value of cats in destroying rats thereby checking epidemics. And this in all probability led to the high esteem in which cats were held and the divine honors sometimes paid them. It is a great pity that the modern Hindu does not have the same esteem for the cat, but so superstitious are they that large numbers of them will not keep cats, because of the belief that if a cat died in the house or kittens were born in it, the whole family would immediately lose caste. Evidently the pious Hindu would rather die of the plague than lose caste.

"Back to the land" is a cry much heard these days, and it is well to act upon it that the congested condition of the cities with its attendant evils of poverty, misery and crime may be relieved. But many men of slender means who buy small farms in the expectation of making a living and enjoying life are bitterly disappointed. The trouble is they have no experience, and scarcely any business today needs a practical working knowledge to insure success more than farming. If people of small means want to succeed and realize the advantages of country life, they should find work for a time with some progressive, successful farmer.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

LIFTING THE LID.
(New Castle Courier.)
James McCormick, applying for a liquor license, states that he is making the application regardless of the Moore remonstrance and the county local option bill. Just what card McCormick has up his sleeve, he and his attorneys refuse to say. He made the assertion that he thought he could have his place of business open and doing business in about four months. McCormick claims that he and his attorneys have devised a means of defeating the remonstrance although it has held good and is having its effect.

John Hynes says we got High, Game, and the Democrats Low, Jack. John says the presidency is high and that congress and the State offices is game, while Marshall might be properly designated as "Jack" and the local offices as "low." So in that there is evident comfort for all.

LIGHTNING CHANGE ARTIST.
(Connersville News.)
The Indianapolis News, through its all around man, Billy Blodgett, has entered upon a campaign of education to prove that county option would be a failure, because in certain parts of the State the blind tiger law is not enforced. Three months or more ago Blodgett was talking in just the opposite way. But changing front has become so common with the News, of late, that any course it may take will not cause surprise.

WASN'T EVER WARM.
(Connersville News.)
There was sorrow, though marked with much activity, at the home of J. M. Widdows, the well-known poet, east of the city, Thursday morning, when a valuable gold watch belonging to Mr. Widdows was reported missing. He had it the night before; there was no question about that. He had not been away from the premises during the night; that, too, was settled in the general family council, as he has no reputation as a walking somnambulist. The natural deduction, therefore, was that the watch was somewhere thereabouts, so all hands set to work. The search was exhaustive in a double sense, for while not a nook or cranny had been overlooked, the searchers were well tucked out when it ended. Despair was settling down on the household when Mr. Widdows discovered the watch in his vest pocket where he usually carries it. He combines farming with that of verse writing and had on a jacket or "jumper" that prevented him from getting his fingers in his vest pocket sooner. But he is glad he got his watch "back."

HOW CYRUS LAID THE CABLE.
[Celebrating the completion of the Atlantic cable, fifty years ago.]
COME, listen all unto my song.
It is no silly fable.
'Tis all about the mighty cord
They call the Atlantic cable.
Bold Cyrus Field he said, says he,
"I have a pretty notion
That I can run a telegraph
Across the Atlantic ocean."
Then all the people laughed and said
They'd like to see him do it.
He might get half seas over, but
He never could go through it.
To carry out his foolish plan
He never would be able.
He might as well go hang himself
With his Atlantic cable.
But Cyrus was a valiant man,
A fellow of decision,
And heeded not their mocking words,
Their laughter and derision.
Twice did his bravest efforts fail,
And yet his mind was stable.
He wasn't the man to break his heart
Because he broke his cable.
"Once more, my gallant boys!" he cried.
"Three times"—you know the fable.
"I'll make it thirty," muttered he,
"But I will lay the cable."
Once more they tried—hurrah, hurrah!
What means this great commotion?
The Lord be praised! The cable's laid
Across the Atlantic ocean!
Long ring the bells, for flashing through Six hundred leagues of water,
Old Mother England's benison
Salutes her eldest daughter!
O'er all the land the tidings speed,
And soon in every nation
They'll hear about the cable with Profoundest admiration.
Now, long live president and queen,
And long live gallant Cyrus,
And may his courage, faith and zeal
With emulation fire us!
And may we honor evermore
The manly, bold and stable
And tell our sons, to make them brave,
How Cyrus laid the cable.
—John Godfrey Saxe.

CURRENT COMMENT

Fatalities in Coal Mines.
An important preliminary to the government investigation of coal mining with a view to lessening accidents has been completed in the work recently ended by the foreign experts who were asked to apply their experience in mining operations abroad to existing conditions in America. The experts urge the elimination of dangerous explosives by government action, and this is the main feature of their programme for federal action. Simultaneous firing of all explosives while the men are out of the mine is recommended.
The value of three of the recommendations of the experts rests almost entirely in the hands of owners and operators. These relate to the safeguarding of all explosives while in storage, in transit and in handling under conditions of risk, thorough discipline of all hands employed about the mines and training schools for all officials from superintendent down. With proportionately four times as many deaths from mining accidents as any foreign country, it is evident that we have something to learn in the way of safety measures, however high the skill displayed here in getting out the coal.

The Army "Smart Set."
The army man's shooting affair recently up in court gives fresh ammunition to those who are disposed to cast discredit upon garrison life as being detrimental to morals. Unfortunately this is not the first instance of the kind. A couple of years ago an army divorce case led to unpleasant revelations. All there is of it, the army has its "smart set," as should be supposed.
Army officers and "army women"—as the wives, sisters and daughters of officers are sometimes called—are only mortal. They come from the general ranks of society. As a rule, they have more leisure, more need to kill time and more temptation to do it through excitement than the average person of the same social stage. There is reason to believe that, while the dissipation of some few may be highly disgraceful, the deportment of the majority is highly creditable under the circumstances.

CLOSE LAND OFFICE.

Ree, Okla., Nov. 13.—An- toward closing up the affairs of "Poor Lo" as a ward of Uncle Sam, and leaving him to shift for himself, will be taken tomorrow, when the Cherokee land office will be finally closed. Due notice of this action was given by the commissioner to the five civilized tribes, and during the last few weeks those Cherokees who had not taken their full allotment of land visited the land office to make their selection. After tomorrow, no application to select a full or fractional allotment will be received. The Cherokee land office has been open nearly five years and over 40,000 Indians have selected allotments.

The law provides that in event there are Cherokees on the roll who do not get land, they are to receive twice the appraised value of the land from any money the Cherokees may have. The government appraisement that was made was merely a classification and not a value appraisement. The land is worth about five times the appraisement. For this reason every Cherokee who could get land, took it in preference to the cash payment which will not be made until all allotment matters are closed which is likely to be a long time.

I. & C. CAR WAS ON FIRE.

The fuse blew out of an I. & C. car about nine o'clock, last night, just after it had arrived here says the Connersville News. The floor of the car took fire and the city department was called. The blaze was put out by the chemical before any great amount of damage was done.

CHICKENS CHEAP SO ARE TURKEYS

While Eggs Continue High in the Local Market—Farmers Make Comment.

HENS WORTH WEIGHT IN EGGS

Farmers are commenting on the disparity between the price of eggs and that of the hens that lay the eggs. Chickens are only seven cents a pound and eggs are about 30 cents a dozen. Farmers say it takes a pretty good hen to be worth as much as a single dozen of eggs. Chickens are the lowest and eggs the highest they have been for many years so close to Thanksgiving.

And here we are right up against that great festal day and turkeys are quoted in the local market at but ten cents. Many are hoping that they will remain that way for a couple of weeks and that the firm of Demand & Supply will do nothing to boost the price before November 26.

IT'S A JONAH DAY.

(Shelbyville Republican.)
As a rule, most of the members of theatrical companies are superstitious and, especially the good companies.
Such happens to be the case with "The Devil" Company, one of Henry W. Savage's best, which appears at the City opera house this evening. The company will be in Shelbyville two days, but will give only one performance.
Tomorrow night it will not show because they believe the day and date, coming as they do, Friday, the thirteenth, are "Jonahs." The company will play here tonight and then on Saturday will go to Greensburg, where they will give a night performance.

When You Kill the Deadly Dandruff Microbes.

Take care of your hair or you be sorry later on. If it is in good condition now, keep it that way.

Many a man now bald or afflicted with a wig would have a full head of luxurious hair if he had used a good hair tonic in his younger days.

Healthy hair must have nourishment, or in time it will surely die and fall out.

The best hair nourisher, invigorator and dressing known to science today is Parisian Sage.

F. B. Johnson & Co. sell it and guarantee it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair or itching of the scalp in two weeks, or money back.

It is highly praised by thousands of ladies because it is the only hair dressing that makes the hair soft, silky and luxuriant. Parisian Sage is the only hair treatment that reaches the roots of the hair. It kills the germs, puts new life into the roots, and brightens up the hair. The price is only 50 cents a large bottle at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s, or direct by exuress, all charges prepaid, from the American makers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Titles in Mexico

There seems to be an impression that no foreigner can get a title to land in Mexico.
This is absolutely untrue.
The mistake comes from the fact that there is a prohibited zone along the Rio Grande border in which no foreigner can buy land and get a title without the permission of the Mexican government. But this has nothing whatever to do with the State of Vera Cruz. Americans own more than $1,000,000,000 (one billion) dollars worth of agricultural lands in Mexico and all titles are guaranteed to them by the Mexican government. For further information inquire 129 West Second Street.

CURE IT IN ONE DAY.

Coughs and Colds Disappear Like Magic When Hyomei is Used.

If the thousands of people who suffer from hacking coughs and agonizing colds would arouse themselves sufficiently to follow this advice, they would cease to complain within 24 hours.

Here is the advice, if you take it and you are afterwards sorry that you did, it won't cost you a penny.

Go to F. B. Johnson & Co., the druggists, and purchase from them a Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mie) outfit. It will only cost you $1.00. Take it home; use it according to directions, and if it does not cure your cough or cold, take it back and F. B. Johnson & Co. will refund the purchase price.

When you use Hyomei you don't swallow nauseating drugs. You simply breathe in the soothing, pleasant and antiseptic Hyomei air through the little pocket inhaler that comes with each outfit. As this medicated air passes over the inflamed parts, relief comes almost at once, and cure follows.

Mary E. Bennett, Peru, Indiana, writes: "I cannot speak too much in praise of your Hyomei treatment for catarrh. I have been using your remedy for about two weeks, and I have found more relief in that time than anything that I have ever tried. I have spent dollar after dollar getting medicine of the doctor for a troublesome cough which I had, and have tried all kinds of cough syrups and cough tablets, and Hyomei is the only remedy that reached the spot. I given up in despair, but I feel so much better now that I feel as though I have a new lease on my life."

Hyomei is guaranteed by F. B. Johnson & Co. to cure catarrh, grip, croup and asthma, and all diseases of the nose and throat.

Pains of women, head pains, or any pains stopped in 20 minutes sure, with Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets. See full formula on 25c Box. Sold by F. B. Johnson & Co.

He looked pleased at that and said I was very kind, though I should have thought it was the other way round.

"I'll get your ticket, then," he went on. "If you'll give me twenty-five dollars—five pounds, you know—I'll hand you back the change, but I'm afraid it won't be much."

"Change?" I echoed. "Why, I supposed it would be ever so much more than five pounds to get to Chicago, which is almost in central America, isn't it?"

"The people who live there think it's central," said Mr. Brett, "but they make the railroad men keep prices down so that dissatisfied New Yorkers can afford to go and live there. It isn't a bad journey, you'll find. I think it will interest you. You sleep and eat in the train, you know."

"What fun!" I exclaimed. "I've never slept in a train even on the continent."

"If you had it would be different from this one," said he. "Can you be ready in twenty-five minutes? The train which we call the Twentieth Century starts at 2:45."

"I'm ready now," said I. "The sooner we're on the way the better. But oh, about Vivace! Will they allow him to sleep and eat too?"

"I expect I can arrange that," Mr. Brett answered in such a confident way that I felt sure he could do it or anything else he set out to do. It really was lucky for me that he happened to be traveling west that same day, and such an extraordinary coincidence too.

"Are you going on journalistic business?" I asked.

"No; it's business I'm undertaking for a friend," he explained. "But I hope to get something good for myself out of it in the end."

"Oh, I do hope you will," I replied. "I'm sure you deserve to."

"I'm sure I don't," said he, laughing. "But I shall try hard for it all the same. You know you told me to be ambitious."

"I know I did," I answered.

A moment later he said that he must hurry off and attend to the tickets, and I had only time to glance through some papers the waiter brought me, with columns full of Mohunsligh's marriage, when he was back again with a cab.

While I read an account of the wedding and gushing paragraphs about me I wondered if there mightn't be things not so flattering in the same papers to-morrow.

"If it got out that I had run away, would there be a scandal?" I asked Mr. Brett in the cab. But he said that I needn't be afraid. Mrs. Stuyvesant-Knox was too clever a woman to let

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful. Gently though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Brace your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

anything she wouldn't like get into the papers. She would send a paragraph to the effect that Lady Betty Bulkeley had been suddenly called home or had gone to visit other friends or something of that sort. "But she will almost certainly cable to your people," he went on.

"Yes, but she won't know where I've gone till afterward, and anyhow they can't object to my being with Miss Woodburn," I answered him.

"You don't think they'll send for you to come home at once?"

I shook my head. "They won't do that. They don't want—that is, they think it wiser for me to stop on this side longer, now I'm here."

"I'm very glad of that," said Mr. Brett and he looked at me as if he really were glad in spite of all the trouble I'd made him.

Chapter 14

THE train for Chicago is perfectly wonderful, not like an ordinary, human kind of train at all. I'm in it now, and have been writing everything about the wedding and what happened afterward because I have a whole room of my own and I'm much too excited to sleep.

There's a bed in the room—not a hard shelf, but quite a wide, springy bed, with an electric light close by the pillow; there are walls made of mirrors; there's a sofa, a washhand stand and a palm leaf fan; there's netting in the window so that you can have it open without getting black, and there would be plenty of places to put my things if I'd brought three times as many. But better than anything else, there's a soft, sweet, brown maid who goes with the room and isn't an extra. She's the same brown as the porters, only paler than most, and the train wasn't ten minutes outside New York when she appeared to ask what she could do for me. There was nothing at the time, but she didn't go away. She looked about for a minute, then pouncing on the palm leaf she began to fan me, slowly and gracefully, not holding on by anything, though the train was hurrying itself through the state of New York apparently with the speed in which light travels around the world. (I never could remember how many times it can do the whole distance in a minute, but whatever it is, it has the air of being a boast.)

I thanked her a good deal and said I wouldn't trouble her any more, though it was very nice, but she kept straight on, like a mechanical doll, until I felt that in common humanity I ought to fan her. If any one in England, especially any one in her position (only there aren't such positions), had asked half as many questions as she did people would be extremely surprised and offended, but I would defy even the crossiest person to be offended with this soft brown thing. It would have been too ungrateful not to answer her nicely when she was keeping my flies at bay with extreme inconvenience to herself, so I admitted that I was English, told what county I came from, how long I'd been in the States, where I'd been staying, how I liked America, where I was going now, and ended up by satisfying her as to my age and whether I had a mother. I also stated that I was neither married nor engaged. The dear creature rewarded me for all this by telling me a great deal about herself and her relatives, and a church picnic she attended last Sunday, where there were more young gentlemen than ladies—"which always makes parties so nice for us girls."

"I must say that's a mighty pretty hat you've got," said she at last. "I reckon it came from England. And my, but that is a sweet waist! I'd give my life for that waist!"

If I had had a twin sister of the sweet waist with me I couldn't have resisted pressing it upon her, and I don't believe she would have refused.

As soon as Mr. Brett got me nicely settled in my room he said we wouldn't meet again during the journey. I was sorry and wanted to know why, so he explained that his ticket was different from mine. I hope that is the only reason, really, and that it isn't because he thinks he ought not to be traveling with me. I suppose he is going second class.

I did miss him at dinner, which I had in a grand restaurant car about half a mile away from me in the train. It was fun being there, seeing all the people and being served by fascinating black waiters, but it would have been more fun with him. I longed to exclaim to Mr. Brett about the glorious sunset which marched with us along the Hudson river for an enchanted hour, and I couldn't half enjoy it for wondering every minute as it changed from one beauty to another whether he were watching too.

We have tenderly radiant sunsets at home, which I love, but they're not startlingly magnificent as in America, where all things—even cloud effects—are managed on such a sensational scale. I saw some skies to remember in Newport, though never one like this, but perhaps the magical charm of it was partly dependent on the gleaming river.

When the daylight blue had faded there was a kind of dusky talk then, as if flames leaped up out of the clear water, river and mountains and sky ran gold, reddening slowly till the color burned deep and vivid at the heart of a rose. From crimson was born violet, soft blue violet that hung like a robe over the mountains, while the living azure of the river was slashed with silver, and as one gazed and gazed afraid to turn away, there broke a sudden flood of amethyst light out of the floating haze. It was dazzling for a moment, but before one realized the change the brilliance had been drunk up by purple shadows. The outline of trees and foothills melted into the panny gloom, and, at last, with one dying glimmer of light, all warmth of color was blotted out. Water and sky paled to a pensive gray-blue, and, as the French say, "it made night."

There was a tremendous menu for dinner, such as we used to have for breakfast on shipboard, and droves of things whose names I'd never heard before. Just for curiosity I ordered several of the strangest, and some of them were a great success. For instance, there was "succotash," which sounds as if it might be a guttural insult flung at the mouth of one red Indian brave by another, but when it was (figuratively speaking) flung at mine by a black waiter it turned out to be something more in the nature of a compliment. It looked like beryls mixed with pearls, though it was really only green beans stirred up with American corn, and the two got on so well together you felt they had been born for each other.

It's now about 2 o'clock in the morning, and it seems as if we must have raced across half America, but we have a long, long way to go still, so says the soft brown thing, who looked in on me about an hour ago to ask in a casual way whether, if she should go to Europe to live, she might not be taken for an Italian?

When I was a little girl and my nurse used to make up tales to put me to sleep at night, I would sometimes get impatient and tell her to "go down into the story and find out what happened next." Just now I feel as if that is what I should like to do in my future.

Made of Forest Roots

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them; and, in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion and torpid liver yield to its curative action.

The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements is

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper. ## Feeble Old Lady

Has Strength Restored By Vinol

Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewistown, Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on my lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work, and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for me."

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unexcelled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money.

Vinol is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson & Co.

FINANCIER ARRESTED

It is charged he is behind in Guardianship Accounts.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 13.—Murray A. Verner, until recently considered one of the city's wealthy men, and for a number of years a prominent personage in political and financial circles, was arrested in connection with the settlement of the accounts as guardian of his nephew, Alexander L. Verner, to whom, it is alleged, there is due $37,247.77.

Besides the claim of his nephew and ward, it is charged that judgments of other creditors amounting to $108,000 have been allowed to accumulate. Mr. Verner's attorneys announce that arrangements are being completed to satisfy all claims and that he will shortly be released and all proceedings stopped.

They Have No Kick Coming.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The wave of prohibition which it is claimed has spread over the country, apparently has had little effect on consumption of alcoholic liquors and spirituous drinks, according to evidence brought out at the hearing on the proposed tariff revision before the house committee on ways and means. It was apparent, too, that the liquor interests are, on the whole, well satisfied with the present tariff on spirits, wines and other beverages, as the wine growers and importers were the only persons interested at the hearing.

OHIO TEACHERS MEET.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 13. — Detroit has as its guests today several hundreds of Buckeye school ma'ams and educators, who have come from the neighboring State to hold the annual convention of the Central and Northwestern Ohio Teachers' associations.
This is the first time the Ohio pedagogues have ever held a convention outside of the home State.

The Surprise of Slivnitsa.

"I have never quite made out," says a writer in "Near East," "why the plain of Slivnitsa has come to be regarded as the scene of one of the great decisive battles of the world's history. It did not even decide the Servo-Bulgarian war in 1885. That was decided by Austria intervention. The battle of Slivnitsa is really only remarkable for the comical fact that both sides thought they were defeated, and while Milan of Serbia was hurrying home in confusion Alexander of Bulgaria galloped all the way back to his capital before he learned that the tide had turned. Nowadays the village looks sleepy enough, poor and dirty, like most Bulgarian villages, but almost gay when the sun shines upon its red roofs."

Harsh Music.

The politician caught with the goods was counseled by his friends to stay and face the music.
For an instant he listened to the clamor of denunciation.
"Great Scott," he exclaimed impatiently, "do you call that music?"
A moment later he was out of hearing.—Philadelphia Ledger.

"How foolish you are!"
"Foolish, am I? As if I could help

And the fracas was on.—Louisville

What Kept Him.

"Why couldn't you have come home at a reasonable hour?" remarked an angry wife to her spouse.
"Could, m'dear, jes easy as not, but I—hic—was waitin' fer you t' go t'

GERMANS ON ANXIOUS SEAT

They Would Like to Know the Kaiser's Next Move.

ONE POINT OF SATISFACTION

At Present the Talkative Ruler of the German People Is Fox Hunting in Company With the Only Man in Europe Who Has the Nerve to Talk Openly and Frankly to the Impulsive Autocrat, and It Is Thought the Kaiser May Return to Berlin With a Flea in His Ear.

Berlin, Nov. 13.—The five members of the foreign affairs committee of the federal council had a meeting and discussed recent events. The assembling of this committee is of very rare occurrence and much interested speculation was aroused by the intimation that the meeting was called with the idea of taking some step to prevent Emperor William from pursuing an independent course in the foreign affairs of the empire. In well-informed circles, it is affirmed, however, that the committeemen did nothing more than read certain papers relating to the Casablanca incident.

There are many surmises concerning what attitude Emperor William will adopt toward Von Buelow, the reichstag and public sentiment at large.
His majesty is fox-hunting. Prince Von Fuerstenburg, his most intimate friend, is with him. The present is a time when the smallest circumstances are studied in order to arrive at an understanding of what his majesty's future course may be, and there is satisfaction that he is with the prince, whose influence is regarded as restraining and wise. The prince is the only man who seems to speak plainly to the emperor, and his majesty treats him as an equal. Their ancestors were counts together in Swabia eight centuries ago. The prince is vice president of the Austrian imperial council and a Knight of the Golden Fleece; he is as much an Austrian subject as a German. Although the prince is of aristocratic descent, he is not a reactionary, and he is looked upon as distinctly modern in his political views.

There is still considerable doubt as to whether or not Prince Von Buelow will remain in office, and free mention is made of possible successors. The names of Dr. B. Theobald Bothmann-Hollweg, minister of the interior, and Baron Von Rheinbaben, Prussian minister of state, are most frequently heard in this connection.

The Frankfurter Zeitung today says the situation will not be settled until after the emperor and Prince Von Buelow have had a personal meeting, and this is the prevailing view in the reichstag. There is nothing more to be done at present.

Von Buelow on Anxious Seat.

Berlin, Nov. 13.—The Lokal Anzei-ger says that Chancellor Von Buelow intends to proceed to Donaueschingen, where the emperor is hunting, to make a report of the reichstag debate on the interpellations. The paper states that the chancellor, however, is waiting to learn whether or not his speech is satisfactory to his majesty, intimating that he will remain in office if the emperor indorses his statements in the reichstag. The Tageblatt believes that Prince Von Buelow's resignation is impending and calls attention to the reports that the chancellor has received a telegram from the emperor which has increased his desire to retire.

STRANGE CASE AT CHICAGO

Woman Charged With Plot to Murder
Mother.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Miss Mae L. Otis, thirty-six years old, was arrested here last night, charged by the police with having instigated a plot to murder her mother, Mrs. Sarah Otis, fifty-seven years old. According to the police the mother was to have arrived in Chicago from Mauston, Wis., on next Saturday, and a private detective supposed by Miss Otis to be a "slugger," had been employed to help her. Instead of promoting the scheme the detective notified Police Captain O'Brien.
The mother is said to have money and life insurance together worth $2,800. It is believed the woman is demented.

Excellent Recommendation.

New York, Nov. 13.—The superintendent of every school district in the United States will be asked by the Lincoln Centenary committee of this city to have Lincoln's Gettysburg address read to the children in their schools at noon precisely, on Feb. 12 next, the 100th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth. A suggestion to this effect was adopted at a meeting of the committee held here.

Popular Cause for Contribution.

Hot Springs, Va., Nov. 13.—It is stated here by those in a position to know, that the Republican campaign fund was made up of between 11,000 and 12,000 subscriptions, but three or four of which were in amounts greater than the $10,000 limit fixed by Mr.
Bryan.

IS HAUNTED BY HIS MAD LOVE

Confessed Murderer Asks Court to Have Him Hanged.

WANTED TO BLOT OUT MEMORY

Albert Roubick, Confessed Murderer of Emil Kvasnicka, Pleaded With Judge Nye to Send Him to the Gallows, Declaring That His Mad Love for the Wife of the Man He Killed Would Haunt Him Through the Years, but the Court Could Not Reverse the Finding of the Jury for Life Imprisonment.

Knox, Ind., Nov. 13.—The unusual spectacle of a man under sentence of life imprisonment pleading that the verdict of twelve men be set aside and that the penalty of death be imposed, was witnessed in the Starke circuit court, when Albert Roubick, the self-confessed murderer of Emil Kvas-nicka, was brought before Judge Nye for sentence. Roubick pleaded, with tears in his eyes, that he be permitted to expiate his crime on the gallows, declaring that his mad love for the wife of the man he killed would haunt him through the years. Judge Nye told him he could not reverse the finding of the jury, and Roubick was taken to the Michigan City prison.

apolis Meeting.

grand encampment, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, beginning Tuesday, Nov. 17; the seventy-third annual communication of the grand lodge, on Nov. 18 and 19, and the dedication of the grand lodge building on Wednesday, Nov. 18, will make the coming week the most important and striking in the history of the order not alone in Indiana, but in the United States.

The dedication ceremonies will take place at 3:30 p. m., Wednesday; the dedicatory parade at 7:30 p. m., and the address of dedication by Grand Sire John L. Nolen of Nashville, Tenn., at 9 p. m. The last named event will take place at Tomlinson hall following the parade. The program of the parade prepared by a committee of which W. H. Leedy is chairman, names H. A. Winterrowd as chief marshal, and he will have an able corps of assistants. This will be a torchlight parade of more than 5,000 Odd Fellows.

Coroner Mack Testifies.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 13.—The introduction of evidence in the trial of Ray Lamphere for the murder of Mrs.
Belle Guinness and her three children by setting fire to the house, began this morning, a jury having been secured late yesterday afternoon. Coroner Mack was the first witness called.
The following comprise the jury:
Henry Hill, William Glasgow, Jared
F. Brollinger, Richard Holland, Gaylord Jessup, Charles P. Nelson, Charles Travis, Joseph Bentz, L. B. Collings,
Frank Block, Gifford Hull and Bruce McCormick.

Bride's Shocking Discovery.

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 13.—Mystery surrounds the suicide of Harry Benning, a well-known young man, whose marriage to Miss Viola Bridgeford took place less than ten days ago.
Benning was twenty-two years old and was the owner of a blacksmith shop.
He apparently was in excellent spirits and his wife, who had stepped out of the house for a few minutes, returned to find her husband dying from the effects of carbolic acid.

Pathetic Plight of Child.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 13.—Despondent because her father and mother are estranged, her home broken up and her life made miserable, Esther Bodine, twelve years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bodine, tried to die by taking poison. The police were summoned and the little girl was taken to the county jail, where she was placed in the care of Matron Anderson.

Girl's Assailant Convicted.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 13.—Eljah Harrell, fifty-three years old, formerly a justice of the peace and the village blacksmith of Hanfield, Grant county, was found guilty by a jury in the Grant circuit court of assault on Addie Bodkin, a twelve-year-old girl. The sentence under the finding will be from two to twenty-one years in the state prison.

Serious Loss to Village.

Winslow, Ind., Nov. 13.—Fire practically wiped out the business part of the town of Spurgeon, ten miles south of here, near the Pike county line.
The loss, estimated at $22,000, embraces nearly every business house in the town. The burned property was insured for less than one-quarter of its value. The town has a population of 500.

The Cornell football team will play the University of Chicago at Chicago tomorrow.

W.B. Reduse CORSETS

The Perfect Corset for Large Women

It places over-developed women on the same basis as their slender sisters. It tapers off the bust, flattens the abdomen, and absolutely reduces the hips from 1 to 5 inches. Not a harness—not a constrictive affair, no torturing straps, but the most scientific example of corsetry, boned in such a manner as to give the wearer absolute freedom of movement.

New W. B. Reduse No. 770 for large tall women. Made of white cotton. Hose supporters front and sides, also made in batiste. Sizes 20 to 36.
Price $3.00.

New W. B. Reduse No. 772 for large short women. In the same as No.
770, except that the bust is somewhat lower all around. Made of white cotton.
Hose supporters front and sides. Also made in batiste. Sizes 20 to 36.
Price $3.00.

Ask any dealer anywhere to show you the New W. B. "Hip-subduing" models from $1.00 to $3.00 per pair.

OPPORTUNITIES ARE BETTER HERE

For Levenstein and Duffy Who Will Come From Greensburg to Start Commission House.

OWNED RETAIL GROCERY STORE

Bernard Duffey, who until recently was the proprietor of a flourishing retail grocery house in this city, has formed a partnership with Louis Levenstein, the commission man, and the two will the first of next week open a commission house in the city of Rushville, says the Greensburg News. It is said that large opportunities are offered in our sister city, as the merchants of that place are without a first-class and up-to-date establishment of this sort.

Levenstein & Duffey, however, will put in such an establishment that will cause those of Rushville directly interested, to open wide their eyes, for a better or shrewder buyer does not exist than Mr. Levenstein and he will find an able partner in Mr. Duffey, who nearly all his business life has been associated with the retail and wholesale trade respectively and knows their wants.
